Nazi-Soviet Pact Text Found

London, Oct. 14.
 The text of the agreement, supplementary to the German-Soviet non-aggression pact of Aug. 23, 1939 has been found in Germany.

Major Mayhew, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, disclosed this in the House of Commons today when answering a question by Mr. Thomas Reid (Labour), who asked if the Foreign Secretary had obtained from the archives of the German Foreign Office any evidence of a secret German-Soviet treaty in connection with this non-aggression pact.

Asked if he could say what the terms of the agreement were, Major Mayhew replied: "No, Sir, no. Not at this moment."

There were cheers when Mr. Ernest Thurtle (Labour) asked if it was intended to publish the agreement, but Major Mayhew said publication was rather a different matter.

Professor Savory (Conservative) said that the texts of both secret protocols had already been published in Britain, adding: "I have them in my hand now. The intention was to divide Poland along the lines of the Nareth, Vistula and San—a fourth partition of Poland."

Mr. Richard Stokes (Labour) asked if in considering publication the Minister would incorporate the negotiations between Britain and Russia which preceded the German-Soviet treaty.

Major Mayhew replied that this point would be borne in mind.—Reuters.

Arabs Find Truman "Incomprehensible"

Paris, Oct. 15.
 President Truman's pronouncements on Palestine, and especially his most recent one, have been incomprehensible to the Arab world, Azzam Bey, secretary-general of the Arab League, told a Paris press conference yesterday.

Asked for his reaction to the President's appeal to Britain to permit 100,000 Jews to enter Palestine, he replied:

"Throughout the last year we have been unable to understand what President Truman wants and is trying to do. It is very easy to talk when one has no responsibilities. It is a shame that a big country like America, which could take 100,000 Jews or 200,000, or 1,000,000, without feeling the effect, should attempt to dictate to a small one like Palestine where the appearance of 100,000 Jews will radically alter everything," he declared.

Azzam Bey named two principal points: (1)—That the attitude of the Arab League toward the Jews and Palestine has been misunderstood and misrepresented. He differentiated between Zionist politics and what he called the "world Jewish problem."

(2)—He appealed to France for friendship and understanding regarding the relationship between the Arab League and the Arabic population of French North Africa.

Britain Praised

Saying that the Arabs have frequently exhibited a "traditional sympathy" for the Jews, he as-

S. C. A. Sends "Ultimatum" To To-Yuen Hostel Inmates Influenced By A Minority

 In order to save coal, London's council schools have been ordered not to light fires unless the temperature falls to 50 degrees or less. We Will Not Give Up The Sudan

London, Oct. 15.
 A Foreign Office spokesman said yesterday that Sidki Pasha, the Egyptian Premier, would arrive in London on Thursday for direct talks with the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, on revision of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

One informant declared today "there may be certain minor modifications in our views but it is certain that Mr. Bevin will neither give up this country's rights to remain in the Sudan on the present basis nor evacuate Egypt as early as the Egyptians are demanding."

He also expressed the view that it was "more important for the Egyptians to agree among themselves on what they want than it is to persuade the British Government to see things the extremist Egyptian way."—Associated Press.

Fourth episode in the case of the 1,700 Chinese repatriates now in Hong Kong from Java versus the representatives of Dutch tin mining firms here, from whom they are claiming "occupation" payment, is that the repatriates have been ordered by the authorities to disperse to their various destinations all over the country—with the alternative that if they do not agree no further food or accommodation will be supplied.

The decision was made at a conference between the Secretariat of Chinese Affairs, the Dutch Consul General, the Labour Officer, representatives of the Supreme Court, Relief department, Police authorities, the Chinese agents of the Dutch firms and three representatives of the repatriates.

The repatriates are now demanding a respective lump payment of $1.42 a day for three years and eight months because, they say, they were contracted to work for the mining firms on this basis. During the occupation of the Dutch East Indies they worked for the Japanese and received Japanese military yen in payment. Their savings were in this currency, and on the reoccupation when the yen was devalued their money was exchanged at a high loss.

Until the full payment is made up, say the repatriates they will refuse to move from either the To Yuen Hostel or the Aberdeen camp, in the belief that they have both moral and legal grounds for reimbursement from the Dutch Government.

It was pointed out to them at the conference that millions of Chinese and British had suffered through the loss of devaluation of currency and that already a great deal of money had been spent on their accommodation and food allowances while in the Colony.

Minority Obdurate
 I was told by a Chinese official at the meeting that in his opinion most of the repatriates were willing to return to their homes but were being influenced by a small community urging them to continue the "don't move" strike.

During a long discussion, all views were exchanged before the repatriates were told that they might have free transport to their various places of origin in China but could not remain here on their present basis.

It was also suggested to them that if the minors disperse to their homes a very limited number might be left behind to negotiate their case with the appropriate authorities.

The S.C.A. is now awaiting a reply to their "ultimatum."

No Controls On U.S. Meat Prices

Washington, Oct. 15.

President Truman announced in a broadcast here last night that he would remove price control from meat. He virtually ruled out the possibility—discussed last week—of the United States borrowing 20,000,000 lb. of meat from Britain.

He blamed the meat shortage on the reluctance of Congress to pass price controls. He ended with the warning: "It is plain that the present law does not guarantee the prevention of inflation."

"Failure"
 President Truman's leading Republican opponents today wore big grins over what they termed a "confession of failure," involved in the dramatic reversal of policy by which he lifted price controls on meat.

Writes Reuter's William Hardcastle: They believe that the speech was a virtual confession of defeat in the coming Congressional elections three weeks hence.

President Truman, his opponents declared today, has been compelled to bow before the Republican storm and publicly concede that he is at present incapable of getting his own way, either with Congress or public.

Only Democratic Senators and Congressmen dissented today from the general chorus of approval of the President's speech.

Many housewives, questioned by reporters, said that they preferred to pay a little more for their meat if they could walk into a shop and get it than to have to wait in long queues and then get none.

Higher Prices

An American Meat Institute official, speaking for large packers today, estimated that it would be at least ten days before meat began to appear in shops and 30 days before the trade was normal. The public could not get meat immediately because "stocks are at a record low level and pipelines are empty." Prices, he added, would of course be higher than those laid down by the Office of Price Administration during the war.

INVASION OF ENGLAND

London, Oct. 14.
 The Prime Minister, Mr. Clement Attlee, today announced in the House of Commons that he hoped to make a parliamentary statement on German plans to invade Britain in 1940 early in the next session, which begins in November.
 He told a questioner that his statement would also deal with the circumstances in which all military units in the United Kingdom were alerted against invasion on a September evening in 1940.—Reuter.

Britain's Lend-Lease Role

(By David Condon)

London, Oct. 14.
 At the height of the war the United Nations were aiding each other to the scale of about $4,500,000,000 yearly, approximating to the total value of world exports in a good pre-war year.

This is revealed in the third report on mutual aid, better known as Lend-Lease, issued today by the British Government. Mutual aid by Britain began in the summer of 1941, the report states, and consisted at first only of aid to the United States and Russia. Later it included all the European allies and China.

The report shows that during the three years up to the end of the war the value of supplies, services and capital received by the allies from Britain after excluding oil obtained under Lend-Lease amounted to over eight per cent of the national income and 16 per cent of Britain's total war expenditure.

Details of mutual aid to other countries show that France received $150,000,000, Poland $228,000,000, Greece $24,000,000, Czechoslovakia $30,000,000, Norway $7,000,000, Belgium $24,000,000, the Netherlands $14,000,000, Yugoslavia $14,000,000, Denmark $1,000,000, Turkey $32,000,000 and Portugal $18,000,000.

Commenting on the relatively high aid to Turkey, the report states that this aid was given to meet Turkey's vulnerability to a full scale German attack and the need of modern weapons to enable her to meet such an attack. The report concludes by stating that in accordance with the spirit in which they were begun, the vast flow of commodities and services exchanged are not to be left standing monetary liabilities but cancelled by common consent.

"Common Law" For All Nazi Criminals

(By Edwin Shanke)

Berlin, Oct. 15.
 The Allied Control Council coordination committee promulgated a directive today for all Germany which means that hundreds of thousands of German war criminals, militarists and Nazis now can be arrested and punished according to a common set of principles.

The directive was aimed at "complete and lasting destruction of Nazism and militarism."

It is patterned after the denazification law which has been effective since June in the American zone.

The actual implementation of the directive is left to each zonal commander.

The object, the Control Council said, was to establish a common policy covering "punishment of war criminals, Nazis, militarists and industrialists who encouraged and supported the Nazi regime" and "the complete and lasting destruction of Nazism and militarism by imprisonment and restricting activities of important participants or adherents to these creeds."

Last Hours Of The Condemned Nazis

Nuernberg, Oct. 14.

It was officially announced at Nuernberg this evening that the 11 condemned Nazi leaders will be hanged on Wednesday. The Prison Commandant's office, however, declined to disclose if the condemned men have been informed of "the day." Russian sources report that the executions will start at one minute past midnight.

The nervousness of the doomed men is increasing, but a prison official said tonight that "there have been no hysterical breakdowns. Today, most of the condemned men are trying to compose their nerves by smoking and reading."

The condemned men have not yet been notified that they will hang on Wednesday.

Today, all the occupants of the death cells were asked if they believed that Hitler was dead. All said "Yes."

Streichler declared: "I think Hitler had gone so far that suicide was preferable to life."

The concentration camp leader, Ernest Kaltenbrunner, became a bit irritable over his cigarettes. He complained that he was having to roll his own cigarettes yesterday. Tonight, he was still grumbling, but still rolling his own cigarettes.

Reading Bible

All the men to hang on Wednesday were visited by prison chaplains today. Some of them found consolation in reading the bible.

Meanwhile, Dr. Schacht, Nazi financial expert acquitted by the War Crimes Tribunal, has written to General Lucius Clay, Deputy Military Governor for the United States Zone, asking for his release from Stuttgart prison, as his arrest is "illegal."

Schacht was arrested near Stuttgart on Oct. 7.

Dr. Friedrich Bergold, legal defender of the missing Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, at Nuernberg, was said by the American News Service to have asked for Schacht to be moved, under guard, to Nuernberg, where he would defend him before the de-Nazification court.

Press Secrecy

Prison officials steadfastly refused to confirm or deny that the executions will be carried out in Nuernberg.

Eight correspondents chosen by poll to tell the story to the world were directed to be ready to go into seclusion on Tuesday, and were told they would not be allowed to contact the outside world until after the executions.

None was told where he would be taken, but they will see the gallows shortly before the executions.

Captain Samuel Binder, spokesman for the American Security Guard, said the condemned men were still in their assigned cells here.

The only photographer permitted at the hangings will be from the United States Army Signal Corps. The prints will be delivered to the Allied Control Council in Berlin, and it is up to the Council whether any will be made public.—Reuter and Associated Press.

Yugoslav Walk-Out Protest

Paris, Oct. 16.

Yugoslavia officially withdrew from the Paris Peace Conference yesterday as the parley conducted its closing session.

In a letter to the Conference chairman (Dr. Quo Tai-chi of China) Yugoslavia announced that it would not participate in the final approval of Conference decisions, and would not associate itself with its recommendations.

Yugoslavia's deputy Premier, Edvard Kardelj, author of the letter, declared that his nation was taking this action in protest against the "unjust" decisions imposed upon it by "ruthlessness" in "outvoting."

A few minutes after the session began, Dr. Quo announced that he had received the letter.

The Yugoslav seats were conspicuously vacant on the otherwise crowded floor of the Palace chamber. All members of the Big Four were in their places. The Yugoslav boycott was presumably in protest against the Conference decisions on Trieste and the Italo-Yugoslav frontier to which the Yugoslav had strenuously objected.—Associated Press.

Lt-Gen. Sir Adrian Carton de Wiart, VC, KBE, CB, CMG, DSO, now on his way home from Nanking, where he has completed his mission as the personal representative of the Prime Minister, arrived by air in Hong Kong on Tuesday afternoon.

Gen. Carton de Wiart will be staying with Gen. Festing during his visit before proceeding to England.

Decorated

Nanking, Oct. 15.
 The Foreign Ministry announced today that Lieutenant-General Carton De Wiart has been decorated by the Chinese Government with the Order of the Cloud and Banner (Grand Cordons).

It is added that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has asked Lieutenant-General de Wiart to convey to the British Premier his appreciation of the valuable services rendered by the General during his term of appointment.—Reuter.

DEFENCE UNITY

The White Paper on "Central Organisation for Defence" indicates how far-reaching has been the development by the present Cabinet of the war-time machinery evolved by Mr. Churchill. While the Prime Minister and the Cabinet as a whole will lose none of their responsibility for the broader aspects of organisation for national defence, the review of current strategy, of planning and of preparation for an emergency will be the task of a flexible Defence Committee, whose normal chairman (in the absence of the Prime Minister) will be the Defence Minister. Other Ministers, including the three Service Ministers (now no longer in the Cabinet) will be regular members of this Committee, and the three Chiefs of Staff will regularly be in attendance. This is in accordance with current practice; what is new is that the Minister of Defence, in his full-time office, will have had the opportunity for constant interchanges of views with the Chiefs of Staff Committee and with their joint staff, which forms part of his own Ministry. Neither in the Cabinet nor in the Defence Committee will the presence of the Defence Minister imply that the three Chiefs of Staff will lack the occasion to put forward their views on technical questions of strategy and plans directly and in person. But it will be the Minister's business to appportion in broad outline the resources upon which the three Services must call, to settle a common policy upon questions of general administration between the three Services, and to administer such inter-Service organisations—operational, intelligence, planning and administrative—as already exist and may be created. On all these matters, he (and not the Service Ministers) will be answerable both to the Cabinet and to the House of Commons, while the three Service Ministers will be responsible only for the administration of their own Departments within the resources allotted them—a subordinate, but still a considerable field. Though the White Paper discusses the possibility of amalgamating the three Services at some future time, the Cabinet have decided that this is out of the question at the present moment; indeed, it is unlikely ever to be practicable. But what is already practicable and essential is a common policy and a common central organisation with an executive authority such as the pre-war Committee of Imperial Defence could not provide. Such a central organisation is now provided, with the authority and driving force not merely of a full-time Cabinet Minister, but of the three professional officers responsible individually for the execution of those plans upon which collectively they are the Government's joint advisers. The scheme is admirable, and its detailed elaboration clear and soundly based. During the transitional period when it is being established in practice a particularly heavy strain will fall upon the first whole-time Minister of Defence.

WANCHAI

The plea for removing the decrees which puts Wanchai out of bounds to Servicemen is one which will commend itself to many if only to put an end to the rather degrading nightly spectacle round the H.K.C.C. ground and Arsenal Street. The clerical outbreak which was the occasion for putting the area out of bounds has ceased to cause anxiety to the medical authorities, and there remains but one thing strongly in favour of retention of the order: The incidence of venereal disease among the Servicemen has shown a remarkable decrease since Wanchai was placed out of bounds. Exact figures are not available, but it is known that the reduction has been rather more than fifty per cent, a most encouraging improvement. Obviously, it is in the general interest that this should be maintained, but whether that

A DISH OF BOMBS

(By Nathaniel Gubbins, London "Sunday Express" humorist).

My dear Boy,—Such a long time since I wrote I thought you would like to know how we are since peace was declared.

As you might expect, Emily has nothing but atomic bombs on her mind, and your Uncle Fred is ready to join the Home Guard again at any moment—this time he says he will get a commission before the iron-monger, and give him hell throughout the next war.

Although we used to laugh at Emily and her fear of Russia, we don't laugh so much now, though I expect things are not so bad as they seem. Emily thinks the only safe place, if anything should happen, will be the South Pole where she could live on seals, though I don't suppose sleeping on an iceberg would do her catarrh and perpetual colds any good—poor darling, Porgy has had doggy flu again, and like the talking dog in the papers, barks "No, no, no" whenever Molotov is mentioned on the radio.

Florrie came round to tea (last of the BU cake) and told us that in the next war the enemy will not only make atomic bombs as big as the Queen-Elizabeth, which will blow whole cities to pieces, but also microscopic bombs which they will mix with our food and blow our insides out—as she was the first to predict the flying bomb (apart from H. G. Wells), and told us all about amphibious tanks and giant sky mirrors to burn us up with the sun's rays long before they turned out to be true, we think she may be right again—anyway, Emily is frightened to eat almost anything now, and went into a dead faint when she mistook a bit of grit in her bread for a little bomb.

At a local dinner and discussion to decide Britain's political future, the chairman of the Whist Club was nearly lynched by excited members of the "Impoverished Gentlewomen's True Blue Conservative Association" when he said that the Conservative Party should unite with the Socialist Party to fight Communism at the next General Election, as that was our only hope for avoiding a slave State—the True Blues said that rather than have anything to do with Socialists they would all commit harikari—as two of them were caught at the door with the club's knives and forks sticking out of their handbags it looks as if they meant what they said.

The gardener, who is reading Karl Marx for the third time, says he has orders from the Kremlin to shoot us the moment any trouble starts.

Your loving AUNT MAUD.

"Provincial Delirium"

Moscow, Oct. 14. "Izvestia" denounces as a "provincial paper's delirium" the story by David Snell in the "Atlanta Georgia Constitution" that Japanese scientists, who had invented an atomic bomb, were now in Moscow.

"This delirium of a provincial paper" came according to market demand. Other provocateurs, not on a provincial scale, picked it up and started to spread it over the world.

Military and political agents and those who derive profit by doing their business in an atmosphere of fear launched this new flow of frightening brimstone. Earlier, they were frightening the world with the atomic bomb monopoly and a stick of atomic diplomacy.

furnishes justification for permanently placing Wanchai beyond the pale is another matter. There can be no question that many shopkeepers in Wanchai who catered principally to servicemen have been severely hit, and with cholera at an end, are entitled to consideration. It is possible that some compromise arrangement may be worked out whereby the main thoroughfare might be thrown open, the side streets continuing to be out of bounds, and this would seem to be a satisfactory solution.

CARNIVAL

By Dick Turner

As they await their fate questions uppermost in the minds of the Nazi leaders are: "Why did Germany lose? Could we have avoided defeat? What opportunities did we miss?" Goering's reply to these questions is published below.

HOW GERMANY
LOST THE WAR

Neurnberg, Tuesday.—Nazi Germany would have emerged victorious if she could have made peace with France and Britain early in 1940, before launching the Norwegian, Belgian and French campaigns.

This was the first tactical blunder Hitler made in his dream of world conquest, according to the former goose-stepping Luftwaffe leader. "I tried everything in my power to bring about peace with France and Britain early in 1940," he said.

"After the Polish conquest, I had several talks with the Swedish author, Knut Bonde, and at my request, he saw the British Foreign Secretary (Lord Halifax) in December, 1939, and asked for Britain's peace terms with Germany.

"Lord Halifax told Bonde, 'I'm glad you came. If there's anyone in the Reich who might win Hitler over to a reasonable peace, it is Goering.'

"Lord Halifax submitted two main peace proposals—the re-establishment of an independent Polish State, and more liberty for the Czechoslovakians pending a solution of the Czechoslovak problem.

"I transmitted these proposals to the Fuhrer. 'To the first proposal he replied, 'Perhaps. To the second he gave a categorical No.'

"This was the first opportunity Hitler missed to end the war. 'In June, 1940 after the fall of France, I made another peace bid, unsuccessfully trying to contact the British Ambassador at Lisbon and the British Minister at Bern.

"Hitler missed a great military opportunity at the beginning of the war against Russia. 'I approved of two war against Russia, but we could have ended it less lamentably than we did—perhaps we could have won it.

"Hitler's plan, which, so far, has never been revealed in its entirety was that on June 22, 1941, three army groups were to move ahead, one to the north with a motorised corps, one to the centre with two motorised corps, and one to the south with a motorised corps," said Goering.

"Motorised divisions of the first group were instructed to drive against Leningrad, without halting at their rear or petrol supplies.

"They were to pass around Leningrad from the south, and then move straight on to Moscow.

"Hitler's Hope
"The motorised corps of the third group had the same task in the direction of Rostov, and after encircling that city, was also to drive on Moscow.

"Two motorised corps of the third group were to push directly towards Moscow.

"At the outskirts of Moscow it was planned that they should split in half and join the divisions coming from Rostov.

Tomorrow will see the start of the Ministry of Bubbleblowing's temporary semi-rationing scheme for string. Local string controllers will issue books of H coupons, each coupon being divided into SL and VK units, interchangeable with the BRP units in the supplementary book issued to holders of NK units cancelled against points value. This method, it is hoped, will save 17,018 miles of string per day. Sellers of string will have to cut the TUF coupons (coloured red for men and blue for women) and paste them in to the ante-dated books of non-interchangeable units, so that they can be sent back to the consumers for return to the collecting stations. One hundred and sixty-three thousand extra officials have been drafted to the local string-officers. The scheme is being started at once, in order to get it going before it has to be stopped.

Problem

A question frequently asked is: If nobody really exists, how is anybody to know that nobody really exists, since there is nobody to know it? Hallucinationalism replies: The fact of non-existence, implying at first sight the non-existence of everybody, does not preclude the possibility of an impersonal State of Existence or Idea of Existence. Though there can be no idea without somebody to have that idea the essential identity of being may exist as a potential entity in the imaginary collective mind of that which produces non-existence.

Certain Powers Imposing Their Will On Others

Siam To Give Back Territory

Bangkok, Oct. 14. The Siamese Government yesterday decided to return four disputed provinces to France. The momentous decision followed discussions based on the report of the United Nations delegate, who returned to Bangkok on Saturday.

It was disclosed that the French proposals are (1) Siam will declare null and void the Tokyo Treaty of 1941, which gave the provinces to Siam. (2) Friendly relations to be established and France agrees not to use the veto against Siam's request for membership of the United Nations and, to the contrary, will support it. (3) A conciliation committee to be set up, consisting of two members of each party and three neutral members, which will consider the border question in geographical, historical, ethnological and economic perspectives.

The Siamese United Nations delegate reported first to the Foreign Minister, who later reported to the full Cabinet at yesterday's closed session, during which the decision was taken. Parliament was summoned to an extraordinary session for ratification of the Government decision this afternoon. Ratification is certain as the Government Coalition holds a vast majority.—Reuter.

Medico Sees Disaster

Boston, Oct. 15. A surgical professor forecasts an atomic third war with "an instantaneous flood of casualties" greater than any in world history and called for a new concept of medical practice and hospitalization.

In an address today, Michael de Bailey, former Army Medical Corps traveling medical consultant, said: "Atomic warfare will require the mobilization of the nation on a disaster basis. The problem indeed may be to keep medical personnel of the country protected and alive and sufficiently uninjured to carry out its functions."—Associated Press.

Allied Agents in U.S.

Washington, Oct. 15. The Department of Justice said yesterday that 262 agents of Allied Governments will be required to file new public registration statements of their activities in this country.

During the war, they were exempt from public disclosure of their work. On Oct. 8, the Government cancelled this wartime procedure.

India Following In British Wake

Paris, Oct. 14. An allegation that India would have been more impartial at the Paris Conference if she had been independent was made at the plenary session of the conference today by M. Vyacheslav Molotov, the Soviet Foreign Minister.

M. Molotov attacked the conference as far as the "unagreed clauses" left open by the Big Four were concerned. Asserting that results would have been different if some delegates "had been able to vote as they liked without being subjected to external pressure" M. Molotov specifically cited the case of India.

"Why should India have striven so hard to obtain independence if she is not to use it? Why should she have fought so strongly for settlement of the Danube question at this conference? For the sake of adding her voice to the voice of the other delegations and following in the wake of Britain, the Indian delegate took an active part in the settlement of this question in no way as an impartial country and in no way as a delegation animated by the desire to seek a correct solution of this question."

M. Molotov spoke soon after Mr. Ernest Bevin, the British Foreign Secretary, had declared that the conference had "accomplished its task and accomplished it well."

Soviet Charges

The Soviet Foreign Minister made the following charges:

1. From the beginning to the end of the conference "a certain group of powers" had tried to impose and dictate its wishes on the other states.
2. The system of voting had enabled powers which had no real interest in certain questions to overrule states vitally concerned.
3. Britain, the United States and France had not been consistent in their support of the earlier Big Four decisions.

M. Molotov—who later met his other three colleagues of the Big Four at the French Foreign Office—said the conference had "violated" the Foreign Ministers' agreed decisions on Trieste by adopting "a number of anti-democratic clauses."

The responsibility for these clauses rested on Britain, the United States and France, "who violated the obligations they had undertaken," M. Molotov said.

Political Error

His speech was made exactly 11 weeks after the peace conference had started and at a time when the United States, who received exemptions, Czechoslovakia had 12, the Netherlands 11, France 10, China 10 and Russia 2.

An official of the Department said that 369 foreign agents, exclusive of the 262 who held exemptions, are registered with the Department's Foreign Agents' Registration Section.

The figures represent 73 nations combined.—Associated Press.

NO ATOM BOMBS IN BRITAIN

Washington, Oct. 14. A White House spokesman, acting with President Truman's direct authority to-night, denied reports that atomic bombs had been sent to Britain.

"The reports are untrue," the spokesman said. "There are no bombs outside this country—no bombs in England—either with or without detonators. The only atomic bombs ever sent out of the United States were those used in the Bikini tests and those dropped on Japan. That is on the President's authorization."—Reuter.

"Policy Of Blackmail"

London, Oct. 14. Moscow radio commentator Feo Meinikov today accused Britain and the United States of "a policy of blackmail and pressure" at the Paris conference.

"The Anglo-Saxon bloc's dollar and pound policy has never been more clearly displayed than in the question of the peace treaty with Bulgaria," he declared.

"It was expressed in the support given to the aggressive plans of the Greek Monarcho-Fascists in attempts to put forward the utmost fantastic economic demands on Bulgaria, to impose unjust military limitations upon her and so on," he added.

Referring to what he termed "international reaction," Meinikov said: "There can be no doubt that it is these backstairs forces, which are at the same time the ruling forces in a number of countries, that are speaking through the mouths of those delegates at the Paris peace conference, who have been attacking Bulgaria."—Reuter.

Cowardly Result Of Court Martial

London, Oct. 14. The solution of the recent court martial case in Malaya, whereby convictions against British paratroopers on a charge of mutiny were quashed, was described in the House of Lords today as a "little cowardly" by Lord Mancroft (Conservative).

He said that very convenient legal defects at the last minute had enabled the Secretary for War to form a decision which evaded the correct issue.

Lord Mancroft, who was speaking during the debate on the progress made in recruiting for the regular forces, said that in the minds of the potential recruit the impression had been created that when he got into the army he would not receive the high standard of legal protection which he had in civilian life.

Lord Mancroft declared that his experience of military law led him to think that there was no fairer system. That, he said, was not the impression of those who studied the Malaya case.

In another reference to the Malaya court martial, Viscount Bridgman (Conservative) said that one paragraph in the War Secretary's reply about the Malayan mutiny puzzled him. It was that conditions at the Muar Camp were partly due to transition from war to peace.

"I could not make out what that meant," he said. "It seemed like charity covering a multitude of sins."

Viscount Bridgman added: "The question of provisioning camps in India was worked out in detail by Lord Munster, and if the provisioning of camps for troops in peacetime is on a lower scale of priority and money than that agreed in his report for wartime, it is a most serious state of affairs."—Reuter.

Stalin Meant U.S.

London, Oct. 15. Moscow radio says that Generalissimo Stalin was referring to the United States when he made his recent declaration that talk of a new war was prompted by some military men to prevent a reduction of military budgets in their countries.

A commentator at Moscow, whose name was not heard because of poor reception here, said that "Stalin's words refer, of course, to such a country as the United States, whose military appropriations today hold first in the world."

The commentator pegged a lengthy comparison of the present United States military budget with those of the past 150 years on the statement made by Stalin on September 24, in reply to a question by the London "Sunday Times" correspondent Alexander Werth.—Associated Press.

C-in-C BPF Back In Hong Kong

The C-in-C British Pacific Fleet—Vice-Admiral Sir Denis Boyd, KCB, CBE, DSC—returned to the Colony on Monday evening on board HMS "Belfast" after visiting Japan and paying his respects to the Government at Nanking and to local officials at other Chinese ports.

Referring to his visit to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Vice-Admiral Boyd said yesterday: "The welcome and courtesy with which I was greeted impressed me deeply and I had the pleasure of conversing for some 25 minutes with the Generalissimo."

Shanghai, Chinwangtao, and Tientsin were other Chinese ports included in the tour and the C-in-C said yesterday: "I much appreciated the compliment of being invited to visit the various Chinese Naval establishments. It was a particular pleasure to renew former friendships with a number of Chinese Naval officers who had trained with the British Navy in their youth. It is clear that there is no lack of enthusiasm for, and understanding of, Naval matters."

During the ship's stay in Chinwangtao, Admiral Boyd flew to Peiping—his first visit—where he was entertained by Marshal Li Tsung-jen, head of the Generalissimo's Field Headquarters.

Visited Sapporo

Following a visit to General MacArthur at Tokyo, where he also met Mr. Gascoigne (Head of the British Mission), Lt-General Gairdner (the Prime Minister's personal representative in Japan) and Lt-General Eichelberger (commanding the U.S. Eighth Army in Japan), the C-in-C visited Sapporo, headquarters of the 11th Airborne Division, where he presented the Legion of Merit to Colonel Higgins, Commanding Officer of the 187 Glider Infantry Regiment.

Vice-Admiral Boyd met Lt-General Robertson, CBE, DSO, C-in-C, British Commonwealth Occupation Force, at Kure, main port in the British Occupied Zone of Japan, where he saw the work of the resident Naval Port Party and Australian units of the occupation force.

Hong Kong University

In an announcement published in the newspapers last month, it was intimated that first year classes, for properly qualified students, would commence in certain reconstructed buildings at the University from Oct. 21.

It was also announced that Elliot Hall and Rice Hall would re-open for the accommodation of students attending those classes.

The University Interim Committee, which was to supervise this work and look after the current affairs of the University in Hong Kong, pending decisions in London about future University policy and reconstruction of statutory governing bodies, has now been appointed by His Excellency.

The Committee consists of:—
Professor R.K.M. Simpson, M.C., M.A. (Chairman).
The Hon. Dr. Arthur Morse, C.B.E., LL.D.
The Hon. Mr. C.G.S. Follows, C.M.G.
The Hon. Dr. S. N. Chau, M.B., B.S., D.O.M.S., B.O.I.
The Director of Education, Mr. T. R. Rowell, B.Sc.
Professor R. Robertson, M.A.
Professor Gordon King, F.R.C.S., F.R.C.O.G.
The Acting Registrar, Mr. B. Mellor, M.A. Dip. Ed., A.L.C.M. (as Secretary).

CNRR RICE CASE

The CNRR Rice Case—a protracted affair in which three junk masters are charged with aiding and abetting in the larceny of 4,000 bags of rice and four go-down and rice shop owners with receiving stolen rice reached its concluding stages at Kowloon Court yesterday.

The Magistrate (Mr. W. H. Latimer) after hearing the defence submissions, ruled that the defence had a case to answer. Counsel for the defence submitted that the prosecution had based its case upon five points, it failed to produce sufficient evidence and the prosecution's case had therefore collapsed.

A fine of $5 was imposed on each of 5 fishermen for loitering within 100 yards of the Kowloon Naval Anchorage seawall. They pleaded that they were just passing and did not know they were within a prohibited area.

Accused Of Being A British Spy

Wadumull Chattulani, charged on five counts under the Defence Regulations, was yesterday committed by Mr. F. X. D'Almeida e Castro to stand his trial at the November Sessions.

Accused will be represented by Mr. A. Rajah, Barrister-at-law, instructed by Messrs. Johannes & Sammy, Solicitors, Singapore.

Kartar Singh, one of the prosecution witnesses at yesterday's hearing, said that he was accused of being a spy for the British Consulate at Macao and that after receiving a beating he was warned that if he said anything about it, his head "would be cut off."

A. Gardner said that he was first arrested in February 1943 and accused of being a spy. In January 1944 he was again arrested and accused of being responsible for an electricity leakage.

After the Japanese surrender, witness went to accused's house. The latter denied witness' accusations and said that William Chow was the man who was after him, witness, during the occupation. To prove this, accused produced some papers from a tin. Witness then asked for the sheet of paper showing his movements during the occupation. Witness took the papers under the authority of Major Boxer, although accused was reluctant to part with them. Witness was armed and obtained the papers at the pistol point.

On looking through the papers before handing them to Major Boxer, witness noticed that some of them contained serious allegations against D'Almeida and O'Sullivan. Witness showed the papers to these two persons and then handed them over to Major Boxer. Accused admitted that certain of the papers were in his handwriting.

I.S.A. Curreen said that in the middle of 1943 he met accused at a meeting of the Indian Independence League, an Association which was organized with the approval of the Japanese. He again met accused in 1945. Accused asked witness for information about a Mrs. Rocha. He said that his Japanese friends wanted to know if Mrs. Rocha had any connections with the British Consulate in Macao. Accused asked witness to find out.

Asked For Help

K. M. Lokoomall declared that accused came to his shop and asked for help, saying that he was down and out. Accused later worked at Jimmy's as head waiter and Japanese interpreter. After a few months, accused joined the Japanese and was engaged in investigating cases of hoarding war materials. He appeared to be a success at the job and remained in the employ of the Japanese.

In October he told witness that his name was on the black list and that as a fellow Sindi, he would try to help. Accused had showed witness a gun which he was carrying and said that he was such a success at his work that he had been entrusted with this gun. Accused obtained various loans from witness, ranging from $20 to $50 every month, which were in fact bribes. A regular payment of $25 was made each month by way of charity. From January 1945 up to the time of witness' arrest on May 3, three payments of $200 were made to accused.

A. M. Ozorio said that in April 1945 he was stopped by accused, who said he was from the Gendarmes. Accused asked witness a number of questions. Three weeks later Mr. Rocha was arrested. Two days after the arrest of Rocha, witness met accused again. He said that he would like witness to answer more questions. They proceeded to Theatre Lane, where accused treated witness to a coffee. Accused said that he had arrested Rocha and asked witness if he knew the number of Kenneth Chan's junk. He also enquired about Kenneth Chan's address and witness told him that it was somewhere in Kowloon Tong.

Carlos D'Almeida testified that he had given William Chow financial assistance. One day accused phoned up requesting an interview. He subsequently called at witness' office.

He said that he was in the Gendarmes and that "had" been received respecting witness. Witness became excited and asked for the name of the informer so that he could take it up with the Gendarmes. Accused asked witness not to get excited and then asked if surrender, accused came up to the office again. He said that he had had reports about witness and Mr. D'Almeida. It was suggested that the matter be taken up with the Gendarmes direct, but accused asked witness and Mr. D'Almeida not to get excited, as he was only a well-wisher.

A. J. Skvarkich stated that he saw the accused about 30 times in all between 1943 and 1945. Accused usually carried a gun, a pair of handcuffs and a badge, which he exhibited and said was issued by the Gendarmes. Accused said that his country was Japan and his wife and children were there. That was why he worked for Japan. Accused told witness about the American bombing of his family's home in Japan. He appeared to be annoyed when he said this. Accused also said that his headquarters were at the Central Police Station.

Democracy And China

Sir,—In a Reader's Letter on Monday, there was criticism of the re-election of our President by the Central Committee of Kuomintang.

It is really the worst thing to criticize without knowing the facts. Here, I should first remind the writer that we have not got a Constitution yet. According to Dr. Sun's Outline of Political Reconstruction, we are still now in the period of Political Tutelage. Until our Constitution is worked out by the National Assembly which is scheduled to open on Nov. 12 in Nanking, and promulgated by the National Government, we do have no right to elect our President. We are now just on the way to Democracy; our Government is therefore under the patronage of the Revolutionary Kuomintang. Without Kuomintang we might have still to live under the monarchic reign of the corrupting Chinese dynasty. For several thousands of years, our people have not had any little knowledge of Political Rights; it is absurd to think that the Political Rights should be put into their hands immediately after the Revolution without giving training beforehand. The history of the slow development of Democracy in England and France is the strongest proof.

I doubt very much if the writer of the letter has any knowledge of political science and has ever read through all the Dr. Sun's works. If not, it is really "A Joke" that he should have called himself "Dr. Sun's True Follower."

Housing

Sir,—Appropos your leader on the housing crisis, why should we not stress, again and again, the military occupation of civilian residential property? Surely, that is the point which cannot be escaped, that it is civilian property and the military, by occupying it, are depriving returning residents, some of them of more than 20 years' standing, of a place in which to live decently.

Major-General G. W. E. J. Erskine, named as successor to Maj.-Gen. Festing, the present G.O.C. of Land Forces, Hong Kong, has had a distinguished war record.

Gen. Erskine has, in the course of this war, commanded a Battalion, a Brigade and finally the famous Seventh Armoured Division, a veteran fighting unit. This division first won its spurs in the Middle East, where it earned the name of the "Desert Rats," derived from the insignia worn on their arms by the men of the division.

Under the leadership of Gen. Erskine, they landed in Normandy.

On the capture of Brussels, Gen. Erskine was sent there to take up the appointment of Military Governor, a task demanding ability and resource in the face of the difficult conditions prevailing in Europe at the close of the war.

From here he returned to Germany to become Deputy Chief of Staff of the British Military zone in Germany to Field Marshal Montgomery and General Robertson, Governor and Deputy Governor of the British zone. Here he had many problems to tackle; the maintenance of law and order; the distribution of food; the improvement of communications and transport; and the maintenance of close co-operation with the occupying powers.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN

It was a bad day for 13 hawkers who went on board HMS "Adamant" on October 13, for instead of doing any business they were locked up for 13 hours before being released to the civil police.

The hawkers appeared before Mr. J. Jolly, Marine Magistrate, yesterday to answer a charge of unlawful boarding. They pleaded that they had been asked on board, though they did not have a permit from the Captain, and they complained bitterly of being locked up for 13 hours on board.

Mr. Jolly told them that it was an offence to go on board a warship without a permit but in view of the circumstances of the case he would discharge them with a caution.

NEWS FOR HONG KONG EXPORTERS

Hong Kong exporters doing business with other parts of the British Empire where preferential duties are in force for Empire manufactures may now obtain Certificates of Origin from the Imports and Exports Dept. A fee of $1 is charged for each certificate issued.

The Superintendent of Imports and Exports states that his Department has taken steps to obtain all necessary information regarding the conditions laid down by countries participating in the Empire Preference scheme. Information available locally at present is not comprehensive, and exporters are advised to make sure of the conditions governing the grant of preferential rates in any importing country where they may be shipping their goods.

Empire countries granting preferential rates demand that a certain percentage of the value of the goods shall be of Empire origin. Some countries, as, for instance, Malaya, require in addition a certificate from a chartered accountant.

Money Mart

There was a further improvement in Chinese National Currency yesterday as rates climbed back to 94½ cents for futures and $1.12 for spot (for CN$1,000).

Gold also strengthened to $302 a tael after a day in which rates fluctuated between this figure and $298.

U.S. dollars remained quiet at $4.48. Sterling and Australian pounds were unchanged at $15.80 and $12.55 respectively.

A film entitled "Route to the North" was shown at the Rotary Club weekly luncheon yesterday. The rugged beauty of Canada's north-west and the immense strides made in development of plained bitterly of being locked up for 13 hours on board. Mr. Jolly told them that it was an offence to go on board a warship without a permit but in view of the circumstances of the case he would discharge them with a caution.

Charity Show For "Red Cross"

A charity performance of modern Chinese dancing, singing and dramatic art by the Chinese Ballet and Dramatic Society will be given on Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. at the China Fleet Club Theatre in aid of the International Society for Medical Service in South China, of which Bishop Hall is the chairman. The entertainment is for a good cause, namely, medical relief, and its sponsors can point to a record of achievement of which any body of workers can be justifiably proud.

Formerly known as the Canton International Red Cross Service Corps, the International Society for Medical Service in South China is a group of doctors, nurses and other personnel who rendered free medical services, with free medicines, to the people in the southern areas of unoccupied China during the long and hard war years. Unmistakably they gave themselves to this work of mercy—opening hospitals, running clinics, healing the wounded soldiers and civilians, answering to the best of their ability, every emergency and call upon their ministrations so that this splendid work was able to reach over a million suffering people, and districts were visited that had never before known modern western medicine in any form. With headquarters at Shui-kwan, war-time seat of the Kwantung Provincial Government, their work to outlying districts, doing rural welfare work besides carrying on the Sun Yat Sen Medical College and a training school for nurses at Shui-kwan. In all there were established apart from itineraries, at different times and different places 20 hospitals and 49 clinics. Since its beginning as the offshoot of the Canton International Red Cross when it trekked inland after Canton fell to the enemy, the group has had many ups and downs necessarily so because of its very nature as a group of medical workers just behind the front lines. When the enemy advanced the Service Corps retreated, and when the enemy was driven away, the workers went back at full speed to the war-torn areas to render aid to the wounded, both soldiers and civilians at the time of their greatest need.

During the difficult seven years the group, which consisted of 14 doctors, 19 nurses, 27 nursing students, 22 nursing-aids, 11 technicians, and ten other personnel, can now show on its record the following figures which speak for themselves:

Out-patients	667,699
In-patients nursing	179,082
Babies delivered	1,468
Anti-epidemic inoculations	76,840
Health work	81,712
X-ray examinations	439
Anti-opium treatments	1,060

After Victory Day, the Service Corps returned to Canton and has been continuing work there along its own traditional lines co-operating with the British Red Cross at Shammun.

What of the Service Corps today? Shall they disband and re-form each to their own way, or shall they go forward, a happy united group as before, going on with their excellent team-work, and even to increase their field of activities? That depends upon the support and co-operation that the new-born International Society for Medical Service in South China hopes to receive.

Unanimous Eulogy Of Dr. T.W. Ware

"That this Council records its appreciation of the valuable services rendered for many years, both as a Health Officer and as the technical adviser on health matters by the retiring Vice-Chairman, Dr. Thomas Walter Ware, and whilst expressing its regret at the severance of Dr. Ware's association with the Council, tenders him its sincerest wishes for a long and happy period of retirement," was the motion proposed by Dr. J. P. Fehily, O.B.E., the Chairman, at the fortnightly meeting of the Urban Council yesterday.

After the ordinary business of the meeting had been completed Dr. Fehily said:—"I wish to crave your indulgence and request permission to suspend standing orders, in view of the retirement from Government service of our Vice-Chairman."

"Dr. Ware has been in Government service for almost twenty years and, during that time, has filled a number of important posts. He has been associated with the Urban Council, both as a Health Officer and as ex-officio Vice-Chairman, almost since its inception and I should like to move a motion in appreciation of my colleague's service to the Council."

In seconding the motion the Hon. Mr. T. McGarry, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, said:—"I am glad to have this opportunity to endorse the terms of this motion and to add my tribute to the work of Dr. Walter Ware, who has for so long been technical adviser to and Vice-Chairman of this Council, on his retirement from the Hong Kong Service. During the short time I was, as Chairman, associated with Dr. Ware, I never ceased to marvel at the inexhaustible energy and indefatigable zeal with which he, as chief guardian of the public health threw himself so unreservedly into his work, both at his desk and out in the crowded streets of the town. I shall always recall, most gratefully, and with warm appreciation, his helpful and courteous at-

It was announced at the monthly meeting of Liaison Officers from S.E.A. territories held in the Special Commissioner's Office on Sunday and Monday, that the Rice Sub-Committee of the International Emergency Food Council in Washington is to be set up in Singapore forthwith.

The first meeting of the Sub-Committee is planned for not later than Oct. 22. Countries initially invited to membership are China, France, India, Netherlands, Philippine Republic, Siam, United Kingdom and United States.

In the absence in Java of Lord Killearn, Mr. Charles Empson, Economic Counselor to Special Commissioner, took the chair at the Liaison Officers' Meeting. In the opening address, he said: "We are now in the throes of the most difficult food period, the months before the next rice harvest are due. Countries of S.E.A. are only getting during October, very little over half rice due to them out of S.E.A. Pool under I.E.F.C. allocation, an amount far below the safety line. Prospects for November are a little better, but as Lord Killearn said at last month's meeting, 'The shadow of actual famine lies across the meeting's deliberations'."

Representatives from all territories of S.E.A. except Ceylon and British North Borneo attended the meeting, and two Ministers of New Burma Government—U Ba Pa, Minister for Commerce, and U Thein Re, Minister for Agriculture, were present. Other delegates were: U Myat Tan, Burma; M. Dumitrescu, F.I.C.; Mr. J.J. Corcoran, Hong Kong; Col. O.H.R. Beadles, Mr. K.O. Jones and Mr. A. Heywood-Waddington, Malayan Union; Doctor M. Farooq and Mr. Chit Dunnewald, N.E.I.; Mr. J.L. Noakes, Sarawak; Mom Lupa Jidjuna Kambhu, representing the Siamese Government; Mr. C.S.I. Mahbub, Combrind Siam Rice Commission; Mr. J. Hamer and Mr. A. Gilman, Singapore; in addition the following observers were present:—Mr. Claude Massey, Australian Commissioner in Malaya and Mr. T.W. Cutts; Mrs. S.K. Chettur, Government of India Representative in Singapore and Mr. P.R. Joseph, American Consul-General.

Though the rice programme for October means that claimant territories get only 55% of rice allotted them from the S.E.A. Pool by I.E.F.C., the lowest figure yet—and though strikes in Burma have meant that only 14,000 tons of rice will be made available from Burma against the October programme, instead of the estimated 20,000 tons, there are some partly compensating factors, Siam has been able to agree to provide extra 11,000 tons towards making up the difference. A recent decision of the Chinese Government to defer their allocation for the second half of this year of rice from Siam, in favour of deficit countries in S.E.A., should mean a net gain of about 21,000 tons to the Pool over the second half year. The four position in Hong Kong became sufficiently good for it to be possible to divert a small quantity of rice to Malaya.

As regards the November rice programme, the Siamese Government has introduced two new measures which they hope will result in more rice coming forward from rice holders. (1) That for stocks sold to Government before the end of this month, selling may be purchased up to 10% of the value of rice and (2) That an amount equal to 3% of all rice so sold may be exported free to any country within I.E.F.C. allocation. Siam is fulfilling the October export programme and is confident of being able to export at least 45,000 tons of rice in November. The Burma Government are considering what additional quantities of rice they can safely sanction for export as surplus to the minimum domestic needs of Burma before their next harvest. Meanwhile for purposes of November shipping programme, a provisional figure of 30,000 tons has been taken, subject to confirmation. F.I.C. estimate they will be able to export about 10,000 tons in November. A November shipping programme was agreed at the meeting giving territories some 5% of their monthly allocations from the S.E.A. Pool. "Having reviewed the food position, the meeting concluded that at the worst the present precarious low rations can be maintained, if only on 'ship to mouth basis'; and that though it is too early to forecast coming rice harvests, crop prospects seem to be encouraging, but early resumption of exports on anything like previous scale is quite out of the question."

Banished For Life

Ip Po Lam, charged before Mr. George She at the Central Magistracy yesterday with keeping an opium den at No. 81 Hennessy Road, 3rd floor, and with returning from banishment, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment with hard labour on the first charge and six months' imprisonment with hard labour on the second charge, the sentences to run consecutively. Accused was also recommended for life banishment after serving sentence.

Inspector Manson, prosecuting said that accused had been prosecuted on many occasions for opium and other drug offences and was, in 1934, banished for life.

Chan Po, Lam Hing, Chan Fat, Ho Wah, Au Lam, Chau Kwong, Chiu Ling and Chan Sum, who were charged with smoking opium on the premises, were discharged with a caution.

The bail of $25 in respect of Lau Yuk and Cheung Kam Sang, also charged with smoking opium on the premises, was estreated.

Disorderly Behaviour

Lau Ha, a Chinese woman, and Tong Chun were yesterday charged before Mr. George She at the Central Magistracy with disorderly behaviour.

P.C.C. Lo Yiu 'Chung' said that he was attracted by cries of 'save life' from the centre of a huge crowd. He found second accused sitting on first accused, who was lying on the ground. Second accused was shaking the woman and striking her.

In evidence, first accused said that she had lent a ring, valued at $1,200 to second accused to enable him to pay "tea money" for a house and had been promised a room in the house. The room was not given her and she demanded the return of the ring. He then beat her.

Second accused denied the allegations and said that the ring was returned by first accused to his sweetheart, from whom it had been borrowed. Mr. She discharged the first accused and sentenced second accused to two months' imprisonment.

FISH SOLD

Before Mr. George She at the Central Magistracy yesterday, Cheng Mui was charged with selling or exporting fish for sale contrary to the Ordinance, and Chan Yiu, driver of Military Truck No. 5331, was charged with conveying fish without a permit.

Inspector Manson, prosecuting, said that on Oct. 14, P.C.C. 968 arrested second accused in Wu Pak Street near Tsung Shing Street at 8 a.m. with 732 catties of fish on his truck. Chan said that his truck had been hired by first accused to convey the fish to Hong Kong for sale. First accused was arrested in a shop at No. 27 Island Road.

Cheng Mui was fined $200 and Chan Yiu discharged with a caution.

John Purdy, boatman of the ss. "Birchholm" was fined $120 when he pleaded guilty before Mr. E.H. Sainsbury at Kowloon Court yesterday to the larceny of a blanket. Purdy pleaded in mitigation that it was his first offence; he was given a good character by the master of his ship.

Wireless reports from Lisbon announce the appointment of Dr. Joao de Barros Ferreira da Fonseca as Minister Plenipotentiary accredited to China, replacing Dr. Joao Lebrez Lima, who is transferred to Mexico.

No Secret Treaty On China

Washington, Oct. 14. The State Department tonight denied that the British Prime Minister, Mr. Clement Attlee, Generalissimo Stalin, and President Truman reached any secret agreement on China at the Potsdam conference. "It has no basis in fact," a spokesman declared when questioned on the claim by the unofficial "America-China Policy Association" that a secret pact was signed by the Big Three. The Association sent a letter to President Truman calling on him to make the alleged agreement public. The secret pact was alleged to have provided for severing outer Mongolia from China, dividing Korea, giving Russia extra reparations in Manchuria, agreeing to force the Chungking Government to accept the Communists in a coalition and allowing the Soviet Union freedom to act on its own responsibility if the salient points in the agreement could not be secured by American pressure.—Reuter.

"THE MEN IN HER LIFE"

SINGAPORE SHIPPING BOTTLENECK QUERIES

London, Oct. 14.

Centralisation of control was criticised by Conservative members today as being the reason for the holdup of shipping at Singapore.

Sir Waldron Smithers asked if the Minister of Transport, Mr. Alfred Barnes, would make a statement on details of the delay which he had sent him, and Sir Patrick Hannon asked for the circumstances under which two ships, Sam Trent and Savigna, were bought from the United States Government for the conveyance of Pearl Harbour coal dust for Singapore, and 8,000 tons of this article consigned there. He asked whether, as the coal dust was re-consigned to Batavia, what would be the cost of this transaction to the British taxpayer.

Mr. Barnes replied: "There was serious congestion during the summer at Singapore, with consequent delay in discharge of vessels. The handling capacity of the port, owing to labour difficulties and to war damage to storage and clearance facilities, proved inadequate for the large amounts of military and commercial cargo entering the port for rehabilitation of the area.

"Energetic measures were taken to relieve the congestion by improving the clearance facility and by restricting imports to most essential cargoes. I am informed that the congestion of cargo on wharves has been considerably reduced. Further improvement resulted from the rebuilding of transit sheds.

Sold To Batavia

"As regards the two vessels carrying coal to Singapore, these were chartered from the United States Government. The coal was purchased and shipped by the military authorities for civilian use in Malaya. On arrival at Singapore the coal at Singapore was found to differ considerably from the original specification and was rejected by the local authority as unsuitable.

"The Special Commissioner was pressed to dispose of this coal elsewhere, in order to free the ships and after considerable difficulty a greater part was sold to Batavia, where the two vessels have now discharged, the balance of the coal having been discharged at Singapore. The cost of the two ships is approximately £30,000."

Serious Pilfering

Sir Patrick Hannon: "Do I understand that these ships were chartered to carry coal dust—it was not coal really—to carry coal dust at the expense of the British taxpayer? I ask what has happened to these ships and where is that coal dust now?"

Mr. Barnes: "I have stated the facts. My position is to provide shipping. If Sir Patrick Hannon wants further information he had better put his question elsewhere."

Sir Waldron Smithers: "Is he aware that the hold-up is due to centralised control. British ships are arriving with empty cargo spaces and pilfering of British goods at the expense of the British taxpayer is very serious. Will he have a further inquiry made, because it is stopping the vital export trade of this country?"

Imbecility

Mr. Barnes: "I have explained that the difficulties arose directly from war and steps were taken to improve discharging."

Sir Patrick Hannon: "I do not want to embarrass the Government, but will the Minister give an undertaking that transactions of this kind, which indicate imbecility in administration will not occur again?"

—Reuter.

STATEMENT ON DARDANELLES

London, Oct. 14.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, hopes to be able to make a statement on the Government's attitude towards the Dardanelles question "during the course of the debate next week," according to Major Mayhew, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, answering a question in the House of Commons today. He said that the British Government had recently been in communication with the Soviet and Turkish Governments on this subject.—Reuter.

Disorders In Bengal

Calcutta, Oct. 14.

Troops have been called out in the Noakhali district of east Bengal and a large force of armed police were sent to the area after reports of serious disorders there, a Bengal Government announcement said.

According to reports widespread disturbances, looting, arson and abduction of women have continued in seven villages since Friday.

Armed crowds were raiding villages, and looting, murder and arson were continuing in an area of 20 square miles. Forcible mass conversion and desecration of places of worship were also reported.

Communal incidents were reported again today in an east Bengal town, where 112 persons have died since the disturbances began on Aug. 20. A woman was killed and two persons were seriously injured today.—Reuter.

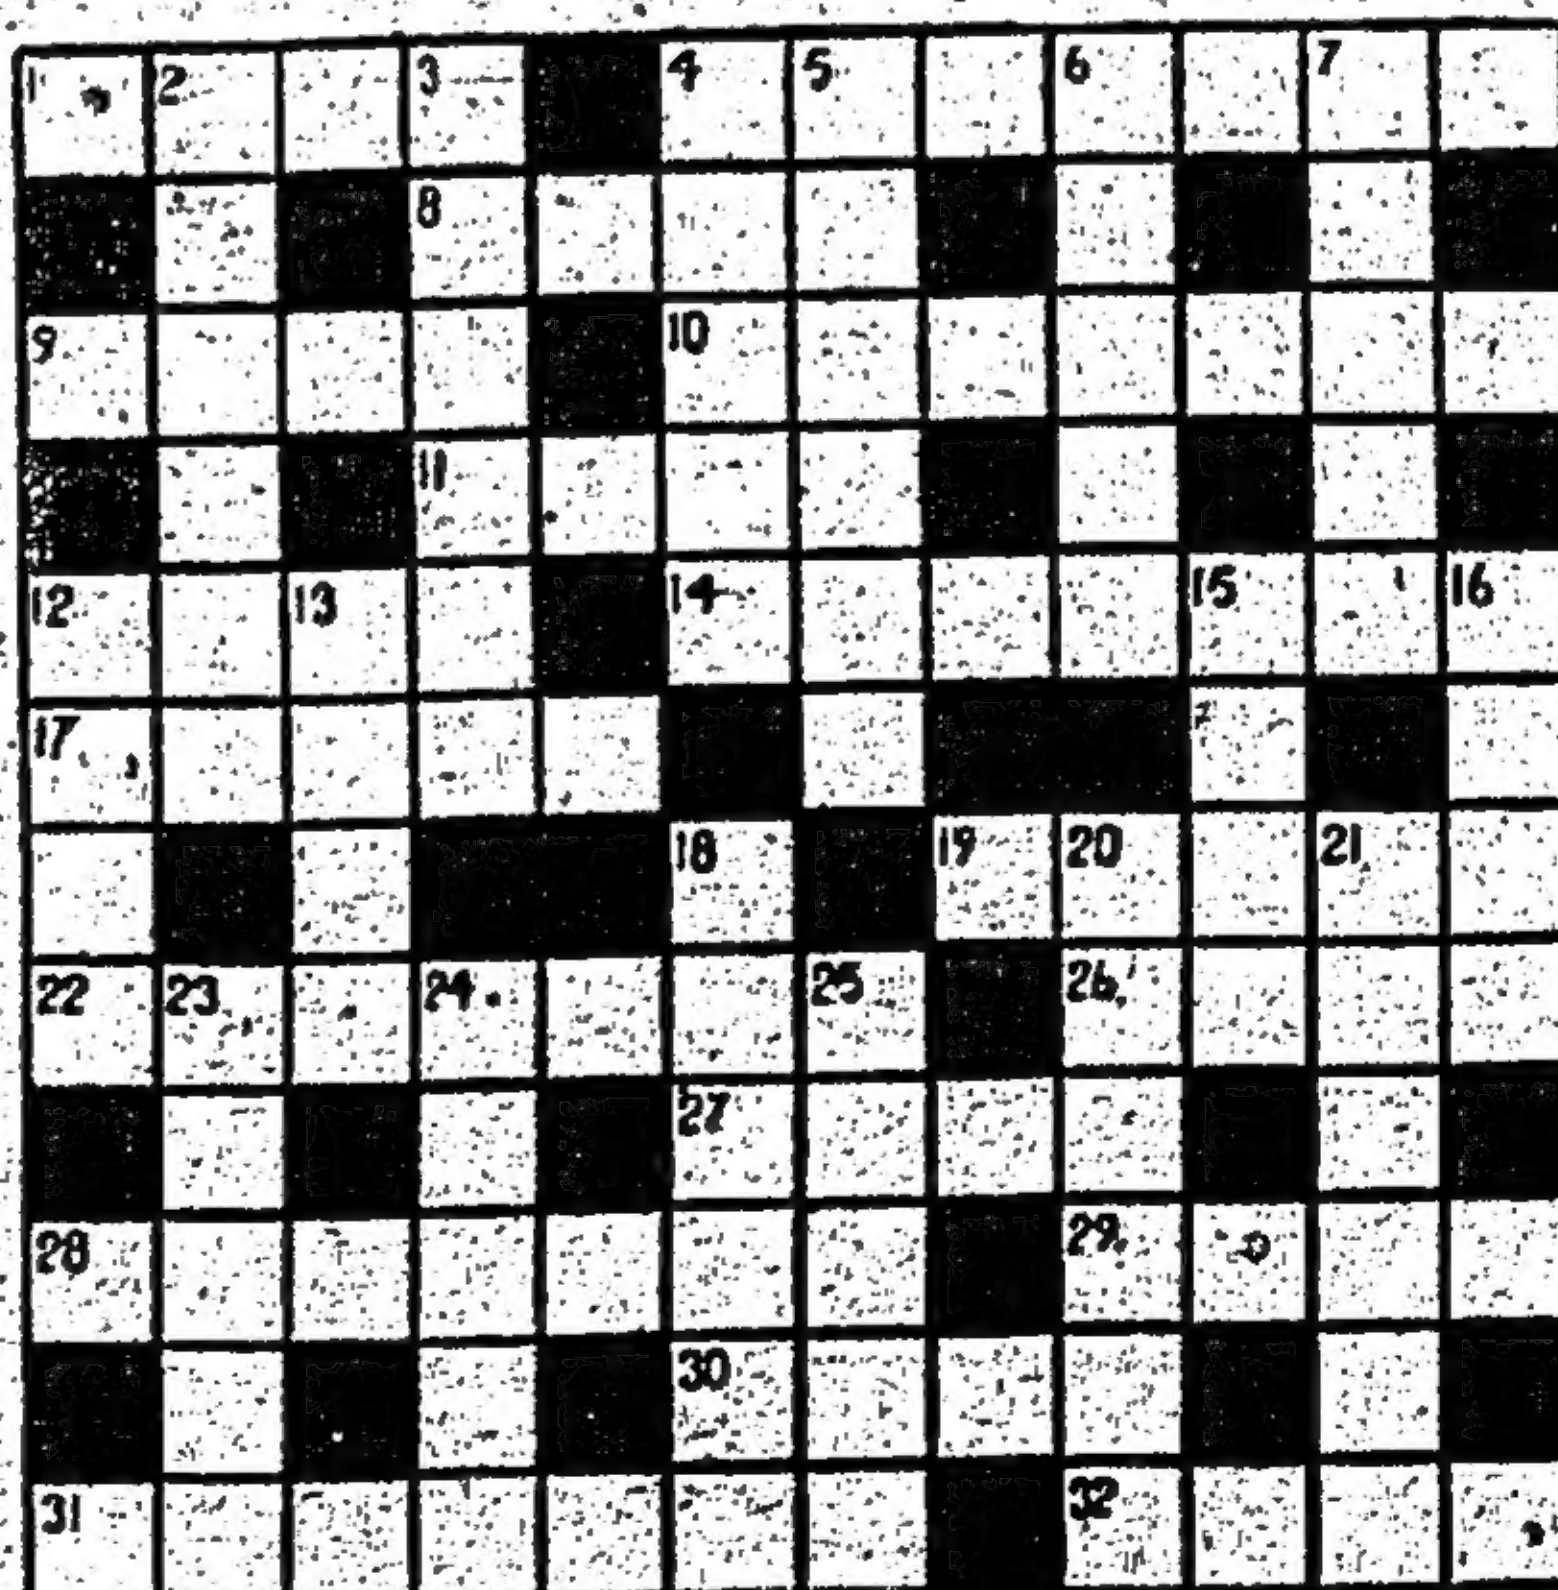

Do Nothing Criticised

Atlantic City, N.J., Oct. 15.

Fleet Admiral Ernest E. King of the United States Navy, warned against the "do nothing" attitude towards peace and advocated the formation of a national security council which "should comprise all those officers and agencies of the Government who have to do with political, military, economic and industrial factors involved in common defence."

In an address made before a convention of the National Exchange Clubs here yesterday, the Fleet Admiral suggested the President be chairman ex-officio of the proposed council.—Associated Press.

World Consumption Of Commercial Cotton

(By Sydney Gampell, Reuters City Editor)

London, Oct. 14.

The world consumption of commercial cotton in the last season was estimated at 23,200,000 bales. France, Russia, Italy, China and Japan expanded their consumption considerably while consumption in India declined slightly. Throughout Europe and Asia, however, India's consumption exceeded prewar. The total consumption outside the United States this season is forecast at about 26,700,000 compared with last season of 23,200,000 and (the seasons begin in August) 1944 of 21,000,000.

London Stock Exchange

London, Oct. 14.

A mixture of influences prevailed in early dealings on the stock market today. The alternative plan to full nationalisation put forward by the four main lines stimulated British railways, which in some instances were marked up 24 but higher levels attracted profit-taking and early improvement was not fully maintained.

German potash bonds were dull, following the denial of recent rumours that funds were available for debt service purposes, but the downward movement attracted fresh buyers and the initial losses were subsequently recovered.

Orange Free State gold mines moved sharply lower, reflecting the statement by Mr. R. H. Morley, Chairman of the Commercial Exchange of South Africa, that if higher taxation continues, the Free State mines may never open. There was, however, no selling pressure.

The turnover in industrials was very small, the only feature being inquiry in iron and steel issues. Consols, 2 1/2 per cent 1945/75, 97 1/2. Conversion Loan, 3 1/2 per cent 112. N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 14.

The stock market negotiated an average advance with scattered exceptions for the first Monday since mid-September.

Gains of fractions to three points or more ruled at the close with a few wider jumps.

Brokers suggested that the political picture in view of Wall Street may have inspired some buying.

Better performers included Republic Steel and Caterpillar Tractor. Among the stumblers was Woolworth.

Transfers were around 1,200,000 shares.

More Produced

The combined consumption of cotton and rayon this season will exceed the equivalent of 30,000,000 bales of cotton while production is forecast below 24,000,000. The record consumption was in 1935 at 34,000,000 bales.

With increase in the world's consumption since 1936 and world textile recovery, the world consumption of cotton and/or rayon will rapidly approach the 1936 level.

The world will then consume 10,000,000 bales more of cotton or rayon than it is producing this season but an expansion of production is in prospect—Reuter.

COPRA HIGHER

Washington, Oct. 14.

The Office of Price Administration raised price ceilings of crude coconut oil and copra today to encourage imports in view of the shortage of fat and oils.

The import price on copra was boosted $1.00 a ton at Atlantic and Gulf ports, effective Monday. This lifted the ceiling to $119.20 a short ton.

The landed price for crude coconut oil was lifted 27 of a cent to 8.68 cents a pound.

OPA said both increases resulted in part from higher ocean freight rates and because of the idle copra crushing capacity—Associated Press.

BRITAIN MUST EXPORT

Nanking, Oct. 15.
Sir Leslie Boyce, head of the British Trade Mission which arrived here this morning, told correspondents today that Britain must export at least 30 per cent more than she did before the war to exist.

He added: "The people of Britain are making sacrifices greater in some respects than they had to endure during the war to encourage the export trade."
Sir Leslie stressed: "We are in China to cooperate with Chinese interests and not to compete with them—our object is cooperation rather than competition."
Nor was there any question at present of competition with the United States to secure the lion's share in China's trade. The potential market in China was so immense that there is room for everybody.—Reuter.

JUNKMASTER'S "ARSENAL"

Chan Chun, 34, master of trading junk 13414, was fined $100 when he pleaded guilty before Mr. E. H. Sainsbury at Kowloon Court to the unlawful possession of five Mauser automatics, four revolvers, two machine guns, seven hand grenades, 265 rounds of Mauser ammunition, 1,175 rounds of rifle ammunition and 1,308 rounds of machine gun ammunition.
The arms and ammunition were ordered confiscated. Mr. D. H. Blake, appearing for defendant, pleaded in mitigation that defendant's junk served as an escort vessel to other trading junk.

U.S. Reclaiming Arms From Russia

(By John Scall)

Washington, Oct. 14.
The United States will reserve the right to "recapture" all weapons and munitions supplied to Russia under Lend-Lease before closing its wartime account, Government officials said. These officials noted that such recapture provisions had been written into the lend-lease settlements concluded with seven other countries. And they add that they see no reason why American policy on this matter would be changed for the Soviets.

It is not clear when negotiations to settle the Russian account will get underway. A note to Moscow some weeks ago suggesting that a mission be sent here for the purpose reportedly had not been answered.
The officials say that in general America does not expect to exercise its rights in any country.

No More "Pin-Up" Girls In H.K.

The Colony's innumerable cinema-goers and collectors of pin-up girls may soon have to do completely without their screen magazines, or, at any rate, without the American ones. The recent directive from the Price Control setting the price at half as much again as the value of the magazine in American money knocks the bottom out of the importation of these magazines as a business and book-sellers are not keen on making a profit of just 10 cents on a copy.

A survey carried out by a "China Mail" reporter revealed the fact that remaining stocks have already been bought up in bulk by enterprising small-businessmen who are aiming on reselling them at a near profit in Canton or Macao.

The Price Control directive has, it is suggested, knocked the bottom out of the whole business of importing American magazines. Booksellers here apparently have a choice of buying direct from the United States or from Manila. If they buy from the United States they have to pay 10 per cent above the American sales price as American exporters claim that the paper shortage in the States does not make it worth their while to export, unless at an extra profit. Thus a 15-cent American magazine costs 16 cents plus four cents for freight or postage. It costs the importer 80 cents and he has to sell for 90 cents.

If bought from Manila, magazines are cheaper but the Manila exporter insists on sending all his surplus and there is no rebate on unsold copies. Local booksellers say they should be allowed to sell the magazines at twice the American marked price, when they would be able to balance the loss resulting from unsold copies.

Booksellers are also somewhat sore at the Price Control. They state that they understood a meeting was to have been called to consider the whole question but that the top-price was gazetted before any meeting was held. They point out that they are not profiteering at the Public expense as American books are being sold at six times the marked price, as per gazette ruling and were selling at that price before the ruling. In the case of books which sold at five times the marked price before the war, this was possible as no business risk was involved.

If the directive was issued in an endeavour to boost up sales of English magazines, booksellers point out, it was unfair as book-stalls have been carrying English periodicals at a loss for many months, the rebate system having lapsed during the war.

English magazines sell when they arrive on time, but mailed copies are delivered weeks ahead of what comes by freight or book post to the bookseller, which are sadly out of date by the time they are displayed for sale.

The magazine business in Hong Kong depends largely on the casual buyer and there is little insurance against unsold copies. If anyone now wants an American magazine, he will have to place an order on the cash-in-advance basis or simply do without.

There was a rush for American comics yesterday, but all Super-men's latest adventures are already on their way to Canton or Macao. Children will have to save their pennies for a subscription or depend on some kind Uncle who believes in comics.

Provocative?

Moscow, Oct. 14.
The newspaper "Izvestia" today labelled as provocative propaganda reports from China that some outside power was supporting the Chinese Communists.

"Izvestia" attacked an unnamed Kuomintang paper in Chungking, denying that 170 planes had been sent to Harbin airport and that tanks and 4,000,000 rifles had been delivered.

The newspaper also denied a report that the Soviet army had sent 10 operatives assigned to bribe soldiers to murder certain persons in the Central Government and Americans.—Associated Press.

DUKE OF WINDSOR

London, Oct. 15.
Reports that the Duke of Windsor might succeed his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, as Governor-General of Australia, circulated in London yesterday.

Reports from Canberra said, however, that Australian Prime Minister Joseph Chifley would recommend that an Australian be appointed to the post.—Associated Press.

Macao Exporters' Petition

Macao, Oct. 14.
Local exporters have sent a petition to Government with a view to securing a reduction in the Defence Tax quota, and it is understood that the Government is reviewing the situation.

At present, exporters are liable to pay 5 per cent of the total value of their yearly exports. The Government base the export value on records registered by the Economic Survey & Coordination Dept. of the Control Office. However, the greater number of local exporters is just self-styled, being in fact middlemen to secure the export-permits necessary for all goods.

Goods exported under their hong name may not belong to them at all, but to taipans, who are adverse to red-tape, which in the case of exports is excessive.

First, applications must be made within a certain time at the Control Office to avoid "voluntary fines." Secondly, the export-permits must await the signature and seal of the Dept. of Economic Services. Thirdly, the permits must be taken to the Fiscalising Dept. of the Safety Police for the chief to okay. Fourth, the goods must be examined by an agent of the Fiscalising Dept. and then again by the Water Police. After so much has been done, then the goods—say five cattles of salt fish—may proceed to the port of destination.—Our Own Correspondent.

IS THIS JUSTICE?

Macao, Oct. 14.
Whether a law be retaliatory or vindictive in its operation, whether punishment has a deterrent or educational objective, there can be few countries where a man is sent into prison for an indefinite period without trial of any kind.

In Macao, however, Pomilio Maximo da Silva Pedruco, alleged to have been guilty of irregularities as a Post Office employee, was five years ago sent into prison without the option of bail and only recently was he brought to trial.

The Court found him Not Guilty, so that an innocent person was incarcerated for over five years.
If that were all, it would be bad enough. But the Legal Prosecutor has refused to accept the local court's findings and has forwarded the case to be decided by a higher court in Goa.

Is this justice or persecution?—Our Own Correspondent.

period of control—perhaps ten cents a pound more—but would gradually decline as supplies increased.

High administration officials in Washington forecast that President Truman's decision will mean a swift end to all Government controls on wages and prices except rents. Mr. Paul Porter, Office of Price Administration chief, is expected to confer with Mr. Clinton Anderson, Secretary for Agriculture, today on the remaining restrictions, which affect about forty per cent of the nation's food supplies.

Government Forces Link Up

Peiping, Oct. 15.
Government military authorities today announced the linking of their forces pushing north-west from Peiping with the victors of Kalgan, capturing three key cities enroute and driving the stubborn Communist defenders into the hills to the south.
This victory, after three weeks of hard fighting, separated the Communists in Jehol from those in North China proper.

Except for four brigades of Communists reported surrounded between Hwaihai and Hsia-hwayuan, it cleared the 116-mile rail route from Peiping to Kalgan. With their holdings thus divided, the Communists suffered another blow, as Government announced that the troops under General Chung Tung-kuo captured Tolun, an important inner Mongolian city, after a drive northward across Jehol.

Elsewhere, the Communists pressed their siege of Paoting and Government reported heavy fighting around Kaspetien, midway between Peiping and Paoting.

Government quarters also acknowledged that the Communists had taken Yuanshih, 102 miles south of Paoting.
In Nanking, despite the spreading war Dr. Sun Fo, President of the Legislative Yuan, issued a hopeful statement that peace negotiations might be resumed.

Dr. Sun had luncheon with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and said Government was giving "very favourable consideration" to the third party proposals for peace which had been drawn up in Shanghai by representatives of the Democratic League, the Youth Party and non-partisans—all minority groups.—Associated Press.

SWISS TRADE AGREEMENTS

Berlin, Oct. 15.
The American and British Governments have announced the negotiation of export and import agreements with Switzerland by the United States and British zones of Germany.

This is the first such foreign trade agreement made for the two western occupation zones which are merging economically. Under the agreements, all exports to Switzerland are to be paid for in dollars. The proceeds will be used to help pay for imports of necessary production materials and food.—Associated Press.

British Property In Manchuria

London, Oct. 15.
The return in Manchuria of British property to its owners was referred to by the Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Christopher Mayhew, in reply to a question in the House of Commons today.

He said: "According to the latest reports received from Mukden, the position there is satisfactory. With two exceptions, British property has been repossessed by its rightful owners and in those two cases it is hoped to clear up the position very soon."

"Little information is at present available regarding British property in Manchuria. The British Consul-General at Mukden, however, is being asked to investigate the position."

"Air-Commodore Harvey, Conservative, asked: 'Will the Minister undertake to press the British claim for compensation for property and machinery which have been either damaged or removed?'"

Mr. Mayhew: "The position there is rather obscure but we have got a Consul-General establishing himself at Mukden and as soon as we hear from him, we will see what further steps can be taken."—Reuter.

statement was issued.

"If, however, the Council deemed it necessary to issue a public statement in the present case, it is due to the fact that the Zagreb judges profess themselves publicly as Catholics and devout servants of the Catholic cause, which was not the case in previous episodes."—Reuter.

RANGERS BEAT SPARTA 3-1

London, Oct. 14

The European football teams were beaten in Britain today.

Fifty thousand spectators at Glasgow saw the Rangers beat the Sparta Club of Prague by three goals to one, while Dundee beat a Silesia XI by two goals to zero.

The Rangers thoroughly deserved their victory. They played well within themselves and were never in difficulties against the Czech team, who kept the ball far too close and lacked punch in attack.

Anderson and Caskie gave the Scottish team a 2-0 interval lead and Gillick later made it three.

Sparta brought on a substitute centre forward during the second half but he could not infuse life into the attack.
